

Child Soldiers Initiative in association with the Network of Young People Affected by War present:

emmanuel JAL WALDCHILD

In the war-torn region of Southern Sudan, Emmanuel Jal was born into the life of a child soldier. Through unbelievable struggles, Emmanuel managed to survive and emerge as a world-famous hip hop recording artist with a hit record under his belt. Called an artist "with the potential of a young Bob Marley" by Peter Gabriel, he has performed at Live 8 and Nelson Mandela's 90th b-day concert. Emmanuel will speak about his experiences and perform some of his original music.

Local spoken word artist EL JONES and dance-hall reggae performer SAA ANDREW
